Training Cost

The cost of registration for all three days is $385, which includes the cost of continuing education credits.

Hoarding BTTI Learning Objectives

1. Participants will be able to accurately diagnose Hoarding Disorder (HD).
2. Participants will learn strategies for the accurate assessment of hoarding symptoms.
3. Participants will be able to apply a cognitive and behavioral model to design intervention strategies.
4. Participants will be able to aid individuals with low motivation for treatment by applying motivational strategies to improve engagement in and adherence to treatment strategies.
5. Participants will be able to apply cognitive and behavioral interventions to reduce HD symptoms of acquiring, difficulty discarding, and clutter.
6. Participants will be able to develop treatment plans for older adults with HD.
7. Participants will learn how to incorporate family and community partners to intervene in hoarding cases.
8. Participants will apply knowledge gained in the educational portion of the institute during small group discussion of cases.

Continuing Education

This program is sponsored by the International OCD Foundation (IOCDF), Inc. This program has been approved by the National Board for Certified Counselors (Provider #SP-1979). Course meets the qualifications for 21 hours of continuing education credit for MFCCs and/or LCSWs as required by the California Board of Behavioral Sciences (Provider #PCE 4422). This program is approved by the National Association of Social Workers (Provider #886509959) for 21 continuing education contact hours. IOCDF is approved by the American Psychological Association to sponsor continuing education for psychologists. IOCDF maintains responsibility for this program and its content. Course meets the qualifications for 21 CE credits for psychologists.

Attendance Requirements

Trainees must attend all three days of the Hoarding BTTI in order to receive a CE certificate. Trainees must also complete three follow-up phone calls with a designated Hoarding BTTI faculty member in order to be considered a graduate of this program and to receive a certificate of completion.

Additionally, if you are not currently a professional member of the IOCDF, you must become a professional member in order to register for this training. Professional membership is $100 per person, per year. We will look up your membership status upon receiving your application, and will automatically add the additional $100 fee onto the $385 Hoarding BTTI registration fee when we register you for the training if you do not have a current professional membership. If you will be paying by check and are not a professional member of the IOCDF, you will be asked to send in an additional $100 to cover your professional membership fee. If you have any questions about your membership or about this policy, please feel free to contact us. There will be no exceptions to these requirements.

Local Hotel Information

The IOCDF has negotiated a discounted rate ($249/night on 10/30, 10/31, and 11/1) at the Residence Inn Boston Back Bay-Fenway, located at 125 Brookline Ave., Boston, MA, 02215. To make a reservation at this discounted rate, call the reservation line at (800) 331-3131 and mention you are with the International OCD Foundation. You can find out more information about the Residence Inn Boston Back Bay-Fenway on their website at <http://www.residenceinnbackbay.com/>. This reduced rate expires on September 26th, 2014, so please book your reservation before that date in order to take advantage of this discount.

Local Transportation

Attendees who will be flying to the Hoarding BTTI should fly to Logan International Airport in Boston, MA. The Residence Inn is less than 10mi away from Logan, so taking a taxi from the airport will be the fastest and most convenient mode of transportation. Local registrants should consider using public transportation to get to and from the training site, as parking rates near/at the BU SSW are very high. For more information about parking at the BU SSW, please go to their website at <http://www.bu.edu/maps/?id=353> and select "Parking Lots" as an option.

Cancellation/Refund Policy/Replacement Certificate

If accepted, you understand that this registration fee is non-refundable. There will be no exceptions for medical, travel, or professional emergencies. For replacement continuing education certificates requested after the end of the Hoarding BTTI (you will receive one at the training as part of the registration fee), there will be a $25.00 processing fee.
