EL CONGRESO LATINOAMERICANO DE TOC

Showcase your organization to Spanish-speaking individuals and families affected by OCD and related disorders, as well as the professionals who treat them. As a sponsor, you'll help to support the costs of providing mental health education, resources, real-time in-ear translation, and support to the Spanish-speaking OCD community all while gaining visibility for your organization and brand!

El Cuarto Congreso Latinoamericano de TOC is intended for people with OCD, their families, and mental health professionals. It is an event designed to provide information, resources, and support to the Spanish speakers of the OCD community. For the first time, in conjunction with members of the Latin American Trans-Ancestry Initiative for OCD Genomics (LATINO) study, the Asociación Latinoamericana de Trastorno Obsesivo Compulsivo (ALTOC), and Baylor School of Medicine, the Conference will be held in a hybrid format with sessions taking place both fully online and in person at Universidad de Valparaíso (UV), Chile. We hope that this conference will help to bring the Spanish-speaking OCD community together, provide vital information in attendees' spoken language, raise awareness, and reduce stigma around OCD in Latine populations.
